"LeaderShape was one of the most exciting experiences I've had working with young people. The commitment and energy these young people have for leadership and its application to their education and career/life development show that the nation/world is in very good hands. We need to celebrate these leaders and add to their ranks."

Dr. John L. Mason

"This wonderful program for training college leaders is one that every college and university should consider. The exchange of ideas and curriculum are wonderful preparation for allowing potential student government heads and other organization heads to make a difference in their college years."

Dr. Allen P. Splete

"I believe strongly that an individual will rise to the occasion, if she or he is provided the opportunity and the resources to be successful. LeaderShape is an outstanding leadership development program that distinguishes itself through its ability to reveal the leadership potential in everyone. LeaderShape challenges participants physically, emotionally, and intellectually, while simultaneously providing the resources they need to be effective leaders. It is powerful, exciting, and highly effective."
